

6. Toward the end of the story, the parrot says, "You never can tell how often or where you may find concealed wings." What do you think the parrot means?