

7. The rat has different feelings before, during, and after the race. Describe the three different feelings he has and explain why his feelings change.